Sample scenario: This document is useful for testing approval thresholds, receipt requirements, reimbursement deadlines, and non-reimbursable expenses.

Document Purpose	This sample policy is designed for AI document ingestion, semantic retrieval, and grounded response testing in a business portal.
Review Cycle	Reviewed annually or when operating conditions, regulations, or internal controls materially change.

Quick Reference

Primary Audience	Employees, managers, Finance Operations, executive assistants.
Pre-Approval	Airfare, lodging, conference fees, and travel over USD 750 require pre-approval.
Submission Deadline	Expense reports must be submitted within ten business days after travel ends.
Receipt Rule	Itemized receipts are required for expenses of USD 25 or more.

1. Purpose

This policy defines which business travel and expense costs are reimbursable and the documentation employees must provide to receive reimbursement.

The company reimburses reasonable, necessary, and properly approved expenses that directly support company business.

2. Pre-Approval

Employees must obtain manager approval before booking airfare, lodging, conference fees, or any travel expected to exceed USD 750 in total cost.

International travel requires approval from the department vice president and Finance Operations before tickets are purchased.

Travel booked without required pre-approval may be denied reimbursement unless an emergency exception is approved by Finance Operations.

3. Reimbursable Expenses

Reimbursable expenses include economy airfare, standard hotel rooms, ground transportation, parking, tolls, approved conference fees, and reasonable meals during business travel.

Meal reimbursement is capped at USD 75 per day unless a client meeting, hosted event, or location-specific exception is approved in advance.

4. Non-Reimbursable Expenses

The company does not reimburse personal entertainment, minibar charges, traffic fines, spouse or family travel, premium seat upgrades, or personal grooming expenses.

Alcohol is not reimbursable unless it is part of a pre-approved client event and itemized on the receipt.

5. Receipts and Documentation

Itemized receipts are required for expenses of USD 25 or more. Credit card statements alone are not sufficient unless Finance Operations approves a lost receipt declaration.

Expense reports must include the business purpose, travel dates, destination, attendees for hosted meals, and the related project or department code.

6. Submission and Payment

Expense reports must be submitted within ten business days after travel ends. Late reports may be delayed or denied unless a manager explains the delay.

Approved expense reports are normally reimbursed in the next available payroll or accounts payable cycle.
